Nancy Jefferson Pottery - Raku & Porcelain

Nature has always been a source of inspiration for Nancy. Her passion and love of the wonder of it all takes form when she holds that fresh piece of clay in her hands. Her experiences as a Certified Green Guide in Wakulla County, FL has reinforced this passion. Using techniques that include high fire porcelain, raku and sawdust firing, each creation is an interpretation of the world around her. Each of Nancy's pieces takes three to six weeks from beginning to completion so something is always on the verge of crab teapots, red bird teapots, pitcher plant vases with frogs, face vases and much more, all, one of a kind.

Whether you are a local, a frequent visitor, or just passing through the Big Bend region, keep in mind that Nancy offers a hands-on class where she will personally guide you in hand building your own creation using the flora or fauna that has most inspires you. Perhaps you will discover a wondrous hidden passion all your own.
